

TRANSPORTATION OF DANGEROUS GOODS

OFSWA now offers Transportation of Dangerous Goods (Clear Language Edition) Online training in English and French

Whenever dangerous goods are being transported, the public's safety must be the primary concern. For this reason, workers who provide, handle or transport dangerous goods in the forest industry must be adequately trained under the Transportation of Dangerous Goods Act.

Dangerous goods include:

- Propane
- Diesel fuel
- Gasoline
- Liquified, dissolved or refrigerated gases
- Explosives
- Flammable liquids or solids
- Corrosives

The Transportation of Dangerous Goods course complements the Act and fulfils the certification requirements as established by Transport Canada. The online edition, in English or French, is available any time, anywhere that there is Internet access. The course can be completed in as little as one hour. Included with the course is Transportation of Dangerous Goods: Quick Reference Handbook for Drivers (English only) for later reference.

This course covers topics such as:

- Glossary of TDG terms
- Classes of dangerous goods
- The shipping document
- Safety marks
- Packaging
- Special cases

Included in the online training:

- Comprehensive review questions and final test
- Convenient bookmarking capabilities
- Complete record management
- User progress tracking capabilities
- Full narration and text support
- A user-friendly interface
